

Schools have a responsibility to share the number of complaints made in each academic year. As part of our responsibility, we will share this information with parents here:

Hambling View is a new school and was not operating in the last academic year.

Number of Complaints made in the last academic year	0
--	----------